

After half-century, time to complete St. John's project

To the editor:

I would like to make a comment on Alan Journet's guest column in your paper which was published on Tuesday. How would he like for Cape Girardeau to have a 1,500-foot gap in the levee protecting Cape Girardeau?

I have lived outside East Prairie for 42 years. My husband and his family farm in the Spillway. We have experienced the flooding for more years than I care to remember. The St. John's project has been worked on by many hundreds of people for almost 50 years. It is about time that people matter more than fish.
